“Gosh where do I start, there is so many memories I have with this funny, strong, amazing and beautiful lady! When I was younger she would always be at my house helping my parents and just being there to hang out and when she left I would have to give her a million hugs and kisses before she could even walk out the door. Sometimes if I didn't feel like I had given her enough love I would cry for her to come back, and she did just that. I wish she could drive back home just one more time. One time her and I were driving and we saw this hot pink car and fell in love. So ever since then if I or we saw a pink car it was like a little flash back to that little moment. She would drop me off to dance class, cheer and never really missed a performance. She was my best friend and one of my biggest supporters. We shared half birthdays and when it was my birthday I would wish her a happy half birthday and vice versa. She would say either I was her favorite youngest granddaughter and I would say your my favorite grandma alive or we would say lady with my middle name because obviously we shared middle names. I am so lucky to have that little piece of her and I cant wait to pass down maxine and tell my kids why it is so important. I mean my grandma didn't even like maxine until I was given it. Anyone who met her would say she was a blessing and the strongest women ever. I am so lucky to have had her in my life. I would not be the woman I am today without her.

“ My fondest memories is always smelling her good cooking through out the house. The mash potatoes, chicken, honey ham, meatloaf and much more. Grandma was always cooking something, and it was always delicious. Eating her food during holidays get-togethers was always a great time. I also will always remember grandmas laughter as well. She always was having a good laugh and always joking around. Gonna miss her so much but I will always have her love and laughter with me. She was the best grandmother.

“ I'll never forget visiting you at work and you hooking it up with some ding dongs and twinkies or you taking me as a kid to feed the ducks with your Weber's bread. You did so much for everyone in our family and you put up with our shenanigans with a huge smile on your face. You're the coolest and best gma a granddaughter could ever have. You were the backbone of our family and someone who's irreplaceable in so many of our lives. I love and miss you so dang much, gmoney.... now and forever.

“ The thing I will miss the most was how she would smile and laugh, making the room laugh along with her. I remember the stories she told, food she made, and always putting the curlers in her hair :b

I remember grandma had these little pink weights (prob 2-3 lbs) and they have been floating around her house for 25 years. I would always ask grandma, do you still use those weights, and she always told me she was still working out still and use them to go on walks. I always smile just thinking of her going on walks with those things.

For an older grandma she didn't seem old. Still mowing the lawn, taking the trash to the curb, I can only hope I'm as active as she was when I'm her age.

Nonetheless, I will miss my grandma 🧓, my kids will miss their grandma nana, and she will forever be remembered. We all love and miss you. Forever in our hearts.

“ Mom was the most loved person I've ever known, everyone who met her loved her. One Black Friday 20 years ago my sisters and mom went shopping at the crack of dawn . We were waiting in line at K-Mart just to get in and people in line said hi Bread Lady!!❤️ She had the biggest heart , she loved to play with her grandkids and she played to win. ❤️ I loved my last trip gambling with her this summer, Nathan, mom and me were at Green Valley she loved that place and always played Wheel of Fortune. She was so excited that day because Nathan won on the Wild Buffalo penny slots. He sat there so he could watch his grandma while she played but her luck rubbed off on him . That was a great day . I was so lucky to have her as my role model, my mom and my best friend. ❤️
