“ My condolences to the entire Rangel family. Rip Mrs. Rangel u left a beautiful legacy behind I know u are proud of, what an amazing woman u were. When my sister Patty first started dating your son Tony we spent alot of time at your house, and when they married you cared for us as if we were your kids, I always felt welcomed in your home, I remember being there swimming or for Christmas you always cooking good food. I'm grateful for those childhood memories I have of being at your home, Bobbie, Becky, & Peanut too always were so nice to us thank u all so much. Its funny how things stick with u as a kid, we always to this day have called u and Pal, Mr. & Mrs. Rangel never by your first names that's just the respect we've always had for u both. May u rest in Paradise. Sending u all peace and lots of love.

“ My grandmother Dolores, thought me so much about life. She showed me the value of family, and was an inspiration to my faith in God. She taught me that the world is more than what we can see with our eyes. That Gods power is so amazing there is no way we will truly know it. Some of my first memories are of her giving me a bath in the kitchen sink as she did with all of us grandchildren. The first time I had coffee it was, with her in the morning when I was a little child and she would give me the smallest little cup. I use to come visit my grandparents when all the other kids were in school because I was year around. We would have hours just to be alone before all the other grand kids would get home. We talk and talk and Talk. I learned how to Talk from her. I will miss the days of talking to her the most. She was one of first people I told about my wife. She was one of the first people I told about my son. I am going to miss everything about her. She was as genuine of a spirit as you can get. I am so happy for her legacy. I am so happy she can see her son and her parents. 2 Timothy 1:3-7
