“ Jen, there are so many memories that come to mind when I think of you. I remember meeting you at church when we were in 3rd grade. Your jokes and ability to make people laugh is what drew me to you. There was always a good time to be had when we hung out. From bowling at Yorba Linda bowl, babysitting with each other, the mall, movies, girls camp it was all so fun with you by my side. Then a little later down the road we were both pregnant with our babes. You were 5 months ahead of me in pregnancy and you already had so many tips for me. Like telling me even if nothing sounds good to eat except for candy, just eat the candy. You were with me when I registered for my baby, by that time maddie was born and it all seemed so natural for you. Like you were meant to be a Mom. Infact you spoke often about being a mom and having a baby when we were young. I'm thankful for our friendship and getting to share some pretty great memories with you. I can't believe you're gone. It's the memories that I have that will always make me feel connected to you. Love you sweet friend.
