“ I met “Mr. Carlson” (I could never bring myself to calling him John) around 1983 after driving home for the holidays from Humboldt State University with John. I remember from the first time we met that Mr. Carlson always put me at ease, but was not shy about giving me a bit of good-humored teasing. I think he knew that I was used to that, and it made me feel at home. Since then, whenever I was able to visit Mr. Carlson it was always comfortable and genuine, and I always enjoyed being around him. For that reason, I always looked forward to seeing him. In more recent years Mr. Carlson helped out my family with his computer skills. Like many others, he saved us a lot computer grief! The last time I saw Mr. Carlson was a couple of years ago when he was having health issues. I knew he was feeling poorly at that time, but he still greeted me with the same hospitality as always. I have fond memories and feelings for Mr. Carlson, and I will miss him. I'm so sorry for his passing, but I know he is in a better place now. I wish peace for Mr. Carlson and his family.

“ So sad to think of John no longer being with us. It took me forever to not call him Mr. Carlson but he insisted on being called John. Which was reflective of the type of person he was - thoughtful, easy to talk to, kind, and always helpful. He was patient with my computer questions and gave practical, economical advice in a non-judgmental way. Fran, John Jr., Kathy and all the grandkids - I am so sorry for you loss.
