“ People say time heals all wounds - That someday the pain will subside. But Gama, I can tell you I think they must have lied ❤️👍

“ My heart cannot absorb my terrible loss! We fought her declining health for a considerable time. She was stronger than one would feel possible and fought like the lioness she was. The fight with the bacteria and effects of the treatment she received was all consuming but she fought on. Her comfort finally came at home under hospice care, she was comfortable and beautiful as only she could be!

Heaven wins, Margo wins and I look forward to being by her side at God's appointed time!

May all of you join us!

I Love You Margo!!!

“ Margo was a one in a million and she will be so so missed by all of our family! Her personality and sense of humor were like no other, and she brought so much love and laughter to our lives! She also had the biggest heart, and was always there to show she cared whenever anyone needed her!

Words cannot express how much she was loved, and how deeply sorry we are to have lost her.

“ Margo and I got to know each other as co-workers and that turned into a lasting friendship for over 37 years! She was my best friend that I shared everything with and she became a member of my family and was just like another sister to me. No one can ever replace her love, her humor, her friendship, her laugh, her place in my heart! She is greatly missed already!
