

Sarah Reeb

April 16, 1985 - February 6, 2015

Sarah Nicole Reeb nee Bostick was born at St. Jude, Fullerton, CA on April 16, 1985. She passed away at her place of birth, St. Jude, on February 6, 2015.

Sarah grew up in Brea, CA and attended Brea Olinda High School, where she participated in sports including volleyball and water polo. She attended Fullerton College and DePaul University in Chicago, IL for her undergraduate degree. She then attended DePaul for her Master's and was a Doctoral Candidate at DePaul in Pediatric Clinical Psychology. She was 4 months from graduating with her PhD. She was most recently working at Children's Hospital of Orange County in California.

Sarah married Travis Reeb on August 9, 2013. They lived in Chicago prior to taking her internship at CHOC.

Sarah was a vivacious young woman, having run multiple marathons, even qualifying for the Boston Marathon. She loved playing sports such as beach volleyball on the Lake Michigan shoreline, softball, football, and soccer.

As much as she loved sports, she loved kids more. Her goal was to work with underprivileged children once she received her degree. As such, the By the Hand Club for Kids had a special place in her heart, and we encourage you to give to that organization in lieu of flowers. www.bythehand.org

Sarah loved her Lord, Jesus Christ. Her strong faith in our loving Father has been an inspiration for all of us who miss her here in this earthly life, but we look forward to reuniting with her in eternity. In the meantime, we will remember forever her laugh and the beauty she brought to each and every one of us who had the privilege of knowing her.

Sarah is survived by her husband, Travis; her mother and father Jana & Gordon Howard; her grandfathers, Jack Fritze, Gordon Howard, Sr. and Bud Joos; her sisters Joanna Young & Catie Dooley as well as many nieces and nephews.

“ I worked with Sarah from afar, as the postdoc at the Northwestern site of the UCLA research study Sarah worked on. Although I never had the opportunity to meet her in person, we were on many conference calls together, and I know her UCLA team so liked, respected, and valued her. She had a sharp mind and such a warm heart, which made her so well-suited to clinical psychology. Her family and friends will be in my prayers for a very long time.

“ I am so devastating to hear about Sarah's passing. I was the postdoc at UCLA who hired Sarah, and I worked with her everyday for 2 years (2007-2009). I loved working with her and I considered her more like a friend than a coworker. She was intelligent, charismatic, dedicated, spiritual, and passionate. She brought so much warmth to the room with her vivacious personality. I loved her laugh, her sense of humor, her morals, her evolving hairstyles, her fashion, and her wonderful stories about her friends and family. I will never forget you, Sarah and I'm sure you impacted so many people during your 29 years on this earth!

“ I was fortunate to spend time with Sarah when we worked together at UCLA. From the first day, she greeted me with a warm smile and made me feel so welcome and part of the lab. She was more than a coworker and a true friend. She will be missed dearly.

“ Dear Jana, Catie and family, I am so sorry for your loss. Even the smallest, most fleeting thought of Sarah has always brought to mind the true joy of her beautiful spirit, and the sound of her laughter. May your loving memories of the wonderfully unique blessing she was, give you strength and just a bit of comfort as you grieve. You are in my thoughts and prayers. Sincerely,
